

Funded scholarships

for Master of Arts in Ethics of Governance and Public Service (MA EGPS)

Background:

Three eighteen-month (2021 – 2022) Konrad-Adenauer -Stiftung funded scholarships are available for Master of Arts in Ethics of Governance and Public Service (MA EGPS). MA EGPS is multidisciplinary, combining courses that are team-taught in the Humanities, Development Studies, Sociology and Anthropology disciplines. These faculties also provide their services as examiners and thesis supervisors.

Among courses taught include: Ethics in Public Administration, Legal Aspects of Governance, Practical Ethics, Moral Theories, Professional and Civic Ethics, Public Service Ethics in Tanzania, Business Ethics, Ethics of Leadership and Management, and Ethics of Public Health.

Eligibility:

Suitable candidates for this position must fulfill these minimal requirements:

- Is a Tanzanian below 35 years of age and preferably.
- Holds a Bachelor's degree (with a 3.8 GPA or above) in any professional or academic field.
- Is able to work in multidisciplinary and multicultural research settings.
- Has evidence that he or she has already applied for the 18 month coursework program in MA-EGPS for the 2021/2022 academic year.

Scholarship Value:

This scholarship will cover tuition fees, stipend and research costs as stipulated in the UDSM postgraduate fee structure.

How to apply:

Send your application documents which will include:

- i) an application cover letter with your full and current contact details
- ii) your CV
- iii) your academic transcripts
- iv) two reference letters from your instructors in the undergraduate program
- v) a statement of intent not more than 500 words
- vi) reference details of your online application to the MA EGPS program of UDSM

Send your application to the departmental coordinator of postgraduate studies at: helenlauer@yahoo.com no later than midnight 15th October 2021.

ALL INQUIRIES For more info and any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Head of Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies by E-mail: nanderam@yahoo.com or by Phone: +255-755-336-222.